

MODULE 1

Oracle Abuse

VIDEO SUMMARY

Video 7:

Oracle Abuse

- ▶ First thing you need to know is that in its name, Oracle Abuse implies something not pleasant is going on for you when you're engaging in it
- ▶ Addictive behaviour we can all get into when we approach the cards from a non-neutral point of view
- ▶ Asking the same question over and over because you're coming to the cards in fear and anxiety or because there's too much of an attachment ie. you're looking for a specific answer is Oracle Abuse
- ▶ Asking the same question over and over or putting the cards back then pulling out again because you don't like them constitutes Oracle Abuse
- ▶ Can get into an addictive cycle when you give your power away to what the cards are saying
- ▶ Addictive state comes from a lack of trust or fear
- ▶ The answer you get reflects your own anxiety
- ▶ Cards can become tricksters
- ▶ You know when you're getting into Oracle Abuse because you're not accepting the answer or the card you got, and you want another answer
- ▶ Also involved in Oracle Abuse is not accepting things in your life, wanting to control the outcome and a lack of surrender
- ▶ Can always course correct by stopping and giving yourself a day or two off so that you can recalibrate and enter a relationship with the Oracle from a more neutral, curious way
- ▶ Oracle Abuse is saying you don't trust Spirit and that you only want what you want
- ▶ Stay away from the cards if you're anxious or feeling that you're not getting the right answer

Brief OVERVIEW

Oracle Abuse implies something that isn't good for you. Typically an addictive cycle you get in when you don't like the answer you got. The way to avoid it is to take a break and come back with more neutrality. Remember Spirit has a plan for us way better than we can imagine. Go back to your synchronicity timeline and trust Spirit. Approach with 'that's interesting' and dust yourself off and keep going. This course is not about judgment it's about learning.

HAVE A PLAYFUL SENSE OF HUMOUR IF YOU DO GET INTO ORACLE ABUSE.
